TeleDynamic is an agent of the leading voice and data carriers, enabling us to represent products on their behalf.

Simply put, we make it easier for you because both the price and the contract are identical to the carrier, so we provide a total solution.

So, why choose TeleDynamic?

Choice

We provide the best solution that satisfies your technical requirements, selected from a variety of carriers. Carrier salespeople are limited to their company offering, so they can only provide a “one size fits all” solution.

Pricing and Contract

Same price and contract, period.

Order Management

TeleDynamic will manage the entire order from contract through installation. Working with us consolidates your vendor management down to one company, rather than you being caught helplessly in the middle between the equipment provider and the carrier.

No Finger-Pointing

Since we provide both the equipment and the carrier service, we are responsible for making them work well together. We won't mismatch products and services.

Efficiency

Having us work directly with the carrier on your behalf creates efficiencies that result in faster response times and lower prices for you, the customer.

Ongoing Relationship

You can maintain a single point-of-contact with TeleDynamic managing your ongoing service, or you can work directly with your carrier customer service; it's entirely up to you.

Long Term Motivation

It's no secret that the carriers pay TeleDynamic a residual commission as long as your circuit remains installed. A direct salesperson receives a one-time payment and moves on. Guess who's more motivated to keep you happy?
